Jun 30, 2021 Anyone knows how can I do it? A: You should use \K to match the whole pattern and then use the below regex to get the part which you want to get: \s+Wdr\s6.0\sHdd\sRepair\b([^]) \s+->->->-> DOWNLOAD\sadmin\sWed\sMar\s04\s,\s2020\s2:\s. \s+Jun\s30\s2021 By 21st Century Wire says… While the FBI has been pressing the unending 'dirty dossier' narrative against President Trump since his election, both Democratic leaders have been hoping to exploit that narrative in the lead-up to the 2020 elections. It's already apparent that this campaign is set to be a bitter 'winner-takes-all' contest. Daily Caller: The Democratic National Committee has rejected documents obtained by the Federal Election Commission documenting that it made at least $12 million in questionable payments to Fusion GPS, the firm that commissioned the now-infamous dossier on Trump, NBC News reported. The Washington Free Beacon first reported on the documents obtained by the FEC. According to the report, the payments were first disclosed in a 2014 tax return that showed the DNC's law firm, Perkins Coie, took in at least $12 million. During that same year, the tax return indicated, Fusion GPS took in at least $1.02 million for its work on the dossier. As 21WIRE readers may know, this is just the tip of the iceberg. FBI/CIA director James Comey and former director of National Intelligence James Clapper also claimed Russia was behind the Trump/dossier leaks. Incidentally, the leaks were also blamed on WikiLeaks, yet there is no mention of this in the documents obtained by the FEC. It is very clear that Trump has repeatedly pointed out that Comey was also behind the Trump/dossier leaks, calling it a partisan political hit
